BOOK CLUB

Our next Book Club will be held on Nov. 19, 6:30-8-00pm. We will be reading a biography of Pope Francis, “The Great Reformer” by Austen Ivereigh. The New York Times calls it the best biography of the Pope in English to date. Cardinal Dolan demonstrates that the key to understanding Francis begins above all by recognizing his unfailing faith in the love and mercy of Jesus. Because of the size of the book, we will be reading the first half, chapters one through five this time and the remainder of the book at the following meeting.

COFFEE HOUR

Today we will have a Coffee Hour in the Rectory following the 8:30am, 10:00am and 11:00 am Masses. Please join us!

Environmental degradation and climate change have become closely linked with human rights and dignity as over a billion of the world's poor stand vulnerable to life threatening effects from severe weather, declining crop yields, and contaminated water.

How can people of faith, politicians, and humanitarian leaders respond effectively to Pope Francis' leadership on one of the foremost challenges of our times?

PAX CHRISTI METRO NEW YORK

Today, November 1st is All Saints Day and the Church gives us the Beatitudes as the Gospel Reading. This suggests that the Beatitudes and saintliness must be related. But look at the Beatitudes. They talk about being poor in spirit, meek, persecuted, and insulted, among other things. Not very appealing or necessarily holy, we'd probably agree. So, what is the message we're supposed to take from this passage? Could it be, once again, that we are called to be counter-cultural, that Jesus is telling us that what is truly right, truly blessed is to be humble, merciful, willing to suffer for righteousness. Let us never think that being Christian is easy, but let us remember that it is always worth the price.
